

I happened across a Bone in Leg of Pork in the discount fridge the other day. It should have been £26.27, which would still have been a great price. But at £19.71 it was just too good a deal to pass on.

So the oldest ?Butchers Boy? in the land came out to play.

In total I extracted the following:-

4 Portions of 2 Steaks

6 Portions of Diced Pork.

3kg of Pork Mince - Which we made 6 large Pork Pies with.

Aspic Jelly for the Pork Pies for boiling the Bones.

Pork rind to make crackling with.

At normal prices we?d probably have paid about £30. There will be quite a few Pork recipes in the coming weeks!!!!!!
